Dear fellow travelers:

This is our message this week. Still the news is grim and seems hard to find glimmers of light. We just need to be mindful and be looking in the right direction. The warm days and flower-filled gardens should remind us there is light in this world.

On a sad note we heard that Bob Ammel of the Greater Hartford UCC passed away this week. Please keep Bob's wife, Corabell, and his family in your prayers.

The Women's Fellowship met this week and discussed the bazaar. As the states open up, we will continue to revisit the possibility of having the bazaar and how we will need to change to fit the restrictions. The fellowship plans to make a decision in early September.

We will not be celebrating communion this Sunday, June 5, but will be celebrating it next Sunday, June 14. We are sorry for any inconvenience this might cause

Next week Sunday, June 14, we will have a Cabinet Meeting immediately after the service and Aaron's Postlude. We hope you will stay and represent your various committees. Please prepare your committee's reports ahead of time and turn them into the Office by Thursday, June 11th. Call if you have any questions.

The Trustees and Diaconate will be ZOOM meeting this Thursday, June 11 at 6:30 pm, starting with a joint meeting and then moving into separate meetings. This joint group will continue to discuss what reopening will look like and when that might be possible. The deacons will be setting a summer schedule of worships, looking to doing an outside parking lot worship. Stay tuned.

Faithfully
