Dear fellow travelers

Here is this week's sign. It had been taken in because of the tropical storm this week, but is back out front. Have you experienced storms in your life over the recent months? I know I have and I have experienced the abundance of God's love in my life. Going forward I hope that I can show that love in return to all I meet even when the person does not hold the same view or beliefs that I do. I pray we all find that love in our lives and are able to share God's love with all we meet.

News this week includes the first service this week by our interim minister, Reverend Kirsty DePree. I did listen in on the taping on Thursday and I know you will enjoy! We will be worshipping in the parking lot and a link for Zoom has already been sent out. In case of rain we all will be worshipping on Zoom. This will also be Communion Sunday. We have prepackaged communion for those you are attending in person and ask those who are worshipping from home to prepare their own elements.

Women's Fellowship will resume meeting this Thursday at 9 am and a link will be sent early this coming week. Those who would like to come sit on my lawn are welcome to do so. Also this week the deacons and trustees will meet Thursday at 6:30 pm in the parking lot together and then will separate to continue to meet.

I would ask you to continue to pray for Michael Adam and his family as Michael continues his treatment and recuperation in Boston at Tufts Medical.

Lastly, I would like to thank all those who were praying for Peter and our family following last week's heart attack. He came home just before the skies opened up on Tuesday and continues to recuperate at home. I am grateful to Laurie and John who had agreed to take over the service and all those who agreed to help them as I had previously planned a Sunday away. Thank you for Norma for getting out the news last week on a moment's notice.

Faithfully
